OUR SPECIAL

DRESS GOODS OFFERINGS

THIS WEEK.

The special sale of Dress Goods opened yesterday morning just as we anticipated it would—with a throng of women buyers. This department is now at its richest and fullest for this season. The styles are here both in assortment and quantity, and the prices, as you see, are low for the values that we offer. Season by season our dress goods section has grown in power and influence until it is now at the head of the list in Richmond, and why? Because of your confidence in our methods of business.

A special sale here means special values.

COLORED DRESS GOODS.

WOMEN'S WALKING SUITS MODERATELY PRICED.

There is a difference between our suits and those that are made-to-order—but it's principally in the price. Some minor differences, though—such as several tryings on at the tailors with the made-to-order suit with the loss of time and liability of not being fitted in the long run. Here you have the advantage of different styles, different materials, and the whole matter of selection can be settled at once, and the material, cut, finish, and whole tone of the suit is as good as you'll get at the made-to-order store for a much higher price, as our manufacturers employ the best tailors to be had in the market.

We have a fine suit for $10.00 that stores usually ask $13.00 for at least (and get it). It's an all-wool mixed Venetian in black castor and Oxford with a bouse jacket and position back. The skirt is tucked and unlined. The lining of the jacket is where the superiority of this suit over the usual 10.00 kind is shown. Our suit is lined with good taffeta. The ordinary suit has Romaine linings.

No-folk Suits in blue and brown with velvet trimming, set seams and seven-gored skirt, $14.50.

Our suit stock has never been more complete than it is this fall, and our customers never better satisfied, as evidenced by what they say and what they buy.

HINTS ABOUT THREE DIFFERENT CHRISTMAS THINGS IN THIS LITTLE TALK.

For Christmas is only about forty days off, you know. Our dolls now have a larger home than they ever had, as this department is the most complete of its kind in Richmond. Our book store—for it's grown beyond a mere book section—has everything in it that you could think of (and a lot that you don't think about, either) for Christmas gifts.

EMPRESS, MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE, 12½c A POUND.

Sounds pretty good, doesn't it?—and it tastes still better. Our coffee people have just shipped us several thousand pounds of broken grain coffee, consisting of lots from the 24c, 33c, 38c and 45c coffees. Same coffee we sold several months ago for 18c—in fact it's better, as the higher grades are mixed in it now. It will be sold on y in two-pound packages—25c per package, and we give two library coupons in every package. You're getting a splendid coffee for 12½c a pound.

MANY BRIDES OF THE LATER AUTUMN

The Lea-Lyons Marriage at Charlottesville.

THE SEASON'S SOCIAL EVENT

Pretty Bridesmaids and Athletic Young Groomsmen Help in the Forming of a Pretty Picture at Christ Episcopal Church Last Night.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 12.—The most brilliant wedding of the late autumn in this section was that of Miss Lavilla Belknap Lyons, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Thomas Barton Lyons, formerly of Louisiana, and Leola Lea, of Philadelphia, which took place at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, in this city, at 9 o'clock this evening.

The interior of the handsome edifice presented a pretty picture with its elaborate decorations of palms and tropical plants, while massed in the chancel and upon the altar were white and yellow chrysanthemums. Numbers of white wax lights added added a touch of brilliant loveliness to the scene.

A large and fashionable assemblage filled all but the aisles and admitted the handsome young couple, the elaborate gowns worn by the bride, the maid of honor and the bridesmaids, the athletic-looking ushers, nearly all of whom are known throughout the United States by the honors they won on the gridiron were members of Princeton University eleven, the bride's bridesmaid, the delightful music furnished by Miss Susie Dabney, the proficient Christ Church organist, and Miss Kate McNeill, violinist.

The bride wore a gown of brown and white lace, with pearl trimmings, and she carried a lovely bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Caroline H. Lyons, sister of the bride, was attired in a charming dress of yellow mousseline de soie. She carried a bunch of white chrysanthemums.

THE BRIDESMAIDS. The bridesmaids, dressed in costumes of white mousseline de soie, and carrying bunches of yellow chrysanthemums—were Miss Adelaide Northington, of Birmingham, Ala.; Miss Bette Miller, of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Lizabeth Brown, of New York; Miss Katherine L. Lea, Miss Pauline Rowe, Miss Nancy Lea and Miss Isabel Harrison, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Thomas Caldwell, of Philadelphia, Pa., a classmate of the groom at Princeton, was best man.

The ushers—nearly all Princeton graduates—were Mr. Malcolm W. Pope, Mr. William W. Leonard, Mr. H. W. Turner, Mr. D. B. Wilson, Mr. A. C. First, Mr. J. B. Jones, Mr. Brutus J. Clay, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. Algernon B. Roberts, Mr. J. G. Rosenstarn, Jr., Mr. Arthur L. Wheeler, Dr. Mary Brooks, of Philadelphia, and Thomas Barton Lyons, Jr., of the University of Virginia, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the bridal party was delightfully entertained at the residence of the bride's parents, on Park Street.

THE WEDDING TOUR.

Mr. and Mrs. Lea left on the midnight train over the Southern Railway for an extended Northern wedding tour.

The groom, a graduate of Princeton University, is a successful business man in this city, and is the gift of the bride's uncle, a wealthy resident of Philadelphia; a superb silver service, from the groom's parents, and Mrs. Lea's jewelry, including a few hundred dollars in cash.

The bride is a charming young lady of the social set here and at the University of Virginia. She is a graduate of the Mary Baldwin College, a member of the V. V. V. Dramatic Club of the University. She is a particularly pretty and graceful girl and has always been a great admirer. Her father, Mr. Thomas Barton Lyons, Jr., of Norfolk, Ala., is at present State regent for Virginia of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Her father is a native of Louisiana and a law graduate of the University of Virginia. For some years the family resided in Birmingham, Ala.

The groom belongs to an equally well-known Pennsylvania family, and is also a very popular socially. He has large business interests at Connetquot, N. Y., though for the past year he has spent most of the time at "Bloomfield," his father's splendid summer estate, a few miles west of Charlottesville. He is a graduate of Princeton University, where he was familiarly known as "Biffy" by his classmates. He is one of the most noted football players and players in the country, being a man of splendid physique.

ASHLAND WEDDING

Miss Tomkins Becomes the Wife of Mr. Vaughan, of Hanover County.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

ASHLAND, Va., Nov. 12.—The newly engaged and decorated Baptist Church of this place presented a scene of interest and beauty this evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Gertrude Tomkins was married to Mr. Ward Vaughan, of Hanover county. The officiating clergyman was Dr. Garlick, of Richmond. There were four bridesmaids, arrayed in pure diaphanous white, carrying white chrysanthemums, and four groomsmen, with boutonnieres of chrysanthemums. The church was tastefully decorated in palms and chrysanthemums, the lamps and candles being trimmed with the same, to carry out the color scheme.

The first couple to enter were Misses Flora Vaughan and Lizzie Tomkins, next in order two groomsmen, Messrs. Eddie Tomkins and H. G. Vaughan. Misses Annie Ratcliffe and Nannie Patterson came next, followed by Messrs. J. Newton Vaughan and Walter Harris. They formed in a semi-circle around the pulpit. The bride, wearing a handsome blue traveling costume, carrying white chrysanthemums, entered with the groom.

After the ceremony the young couple left for an extended northern tour. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Augustus Tomkins, who resides in Hanover near Ashland. The groom, who is a successful young farmer of Hanover, is the brother of Mrs. Ashton Elliott, of Ashland. The newly-wedded couple, upon their return from the North, will reside at the home of the bride's father for some months. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have a very sick child, a little girl, who suddenly developed pneumonia.

The wedding arrangements were much simplified on account of the little sufferer.

WEDDED AT BRISTOL

Miss Sevier Becomes the Bride of Mr. Sevier.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

BRISTOL, Va., Nov. 12.—Miss Eloise Sevier, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sevier, was married to Mr. Harry H. Sevier, of Bristol, at the home of the bride's father, on Sixth Street, at 6 o'clock this evening. Dr. W. O. Cochrane, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. The home was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, palms and ferns. The wedding chorus was sung by Mrs. Will Ferguson, Mrs. Judge W. S. Stuart,

Don't Be Too Fat

Don't ruin your stomach with a lot of useless drugs and patent medicines. Send to Prof. F. J. Kellogg, 101 Main St., Battle Creek, Mich., for a free literature of a treatment that will reduce your weight to normal without diet or drugs. The treatment is a natural and scientific process of the big stomach, gives the heart freedom, enables the lungs to expand naturally and you will find a hundred times the first day you try this wonderful home treatment.

Captain Tom A. Davis and Mr. J. A. Slaughter, with Miss Irene McDowell as accompanist. The couple left for Washington and other points East on the evening train.

Life is a graduate of Martha Washington College, Abingdon, Va., while the groom, a native of Floyd county, Va., was graduated from Hampden-Sydney College and later graduated in law from the University of Virginia.

STANTON—BAKER.

Beautiful Marriage Ceremony Performed at Emporia.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

EMPORIA, Va., November 12.—The marriage of Miss Edith L. Baker and George W. Stanton, of Wilson, N. C., which took place at the Methodist Church in Emporia today, was one of the most prominent social events that has taken place here during a year. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and potted flowers for the occasion. It was darkened and the lights from the chandeliers of the church and candles at the chancel cast a soft radiance over the scene that enhanced the beauty and solemnity of the ceremony.

Promptly at 10:30 A. M. the wedding party entered to the strains of a wedding march rendered by Miss Mary Farmer of Stanton, of Wilson, N. C., which took place at the Methodist Church in Emporia today, was one of the most prominent social events that has taken place here during a year. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and potted flowers for the occasion. It was darkened and the lights from the chandeliers of the church and candles at the chancel cast a soft radiance over the scene that enhanced the beauty and solemnity of the ceremony.

The bride, who was dressed in a handsome traveling suit of gray broadcloth, and carried a lovely bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The groom, who was dressed in a white organ, and carried white chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. D. Forkner in the most impressive manner. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom, accompanied by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, left the church in inverse order, and took carriages for the station, where the newly married pair took the southbound train for an extended tour, after which they will be at home to their friends at Wilson.

Mr. Stanton is a step-daughter of Mrs. Marian L. Baker, of Emporia, and was one of the most beautiful and attractive young ladies of this county. Her charming personality and winning nature had made her a favorite with many friends, as was attested by the large number of handsome presents of which she was the recipient. She is a graduate of Richmond Western College, and made a high grade in the study of art, and for one session, prior to her father's death, which took place about a year ago, had taught painting at the Franklin Seminary. Mr. Stanton is a native of North Carolina, and has held for several years.

Married in Washington.

Mr. William Holmes and Miss Bessie Arnold, of this city, went to Washington, D. C., to be married. They were accompanied by Miss Mattie Terry, a friend of the bride, and a brother of the groom, Mr. Holmes, of Leesburg, and Mr. Holmes is a popular young lady of Church Hill.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS

Of a New Catarrh Cure.

A large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers. This is not entirely the result of our changeable climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names, are really catarrh. Formerly the name catarrh was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh, but the throat, stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to catarrhal diseases as well as the nasal passages.

In fact, wherever there is mucous membrane there is a feeding ground for catarrh. The usual remedies, inhalers, sprays, douches or powders, have been practically failures, as far as anything more than temporary relief was concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions, without having the remotest effect on the blood and liver, which are the real sources of catarrhal diseases. It has been known for some years that the radical cure of catarrh could never come from local applications, but from an internal remedy, acting on the blood and expelling the catarrhal poison from the system.

A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time, has met with a remarkable success as a genuine, radical cure for catarrh.

It may be found in any drug store, sold under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. Large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, composed entirely of antiseptic ingredients, Bloodroot, Red Gum and similar catarrh specifics.

Dr. Angler, in speaking of the new catarrh cure says: "I have tried the new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, upon thirty or forty patients with remarkable satisfactory results. They clear the head and throat more effectively and lasting than any douches or inhalers that I have ever seen, and although they are what is called a patent medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them, as I know them to be free from cocaine and opiates and that even a little child may use them with entire safety."

Any sufferer from nasal catarrh, throat or bronchial trouble, catarrh of the stomach, liver and bladder will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug.

PRETTY WEDDING AT WILLIAMSBURG

Miss Booth is Made Bride of Mr. Wise.

A LARGE COMPANY PRESENT

Reception Tendered at the Colonia

Inn—List of the Invited Guests.

Bride and Groom Leave for the West.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., November 12.—Old Bruton Parish Church, one of the oldest on this continent, was to-day the scene of one of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed within its ancient walls, when Miss Henrietta Edwin, the pretty, attractive and highly accomplished daughter of Dr. E. G. Booth, of historic Carter's Grove, became the bride of Mr. Henry A. Wise, the son of Hon. John S. Wise, of New York. The church was beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion with white chrysanthemums and palms, and lighted by innumerable candles, casting a soft glow over the scene of love and beauty.

Promptly at 4 o'clock, when the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march pealed forth from the old organ, the bridal party entered from the east door in the following order:

Bridesmaids—Miss Virginia Peachy, wife of Williamsburg, and Miss Thompson, of Georgia; ushers—Edward G. Booth, of Richmond, and John Thompson, of New York. Misses Margaret Patterson and Ellen Rutherford, of Baltimore; Evan Shelby and John S. Wise, of New York; Misses Elizabeth Bowdin and Eleanor Tucker, of Norfolk; Lizabeth Jennings, C. Wise and C. Phillips, of New York; Misses Sue Webb and Elizabeth Morecock, Dr. Henry A. Wise, of Williamsburg, and George Nelson Wise, of Newport News, Va.; maid of honor, Miss Clara Booth, sister of the bride, and the bride, with her father, who gave her away. Mr. Frisckhorn, of Richmond, played the wedding march.

The groom, with his best man, Mr. Hugh Douglas Wise, his brother, of New York, entered from the west door and met the bride at the altar, where Rev. Landon R. Mason, of Grace Episcopal Church, of Richmond, performed the ceremony.

This was the prettiest wedding ever witnessed within the historic walls of the grand old church.

THE COSTUMES. The bride's gown was an exquisite creation of chiffon embroidered in poppies over mousseline and taffeta; her veil was caught with a magnificent sunburst of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a lovely bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Clara Booth, the bride's sister, wore a beautiful gown of accordion plaited white silk mull over taffeta and carried a large bouquet of lovely pink roses. The bridesmaids, wearing equally exquisite accoutrements with white ribbon, and carried white chrysanthemums.

The groom is a popular and well-to-do lawyer of New York and has a host of friends throughout the States. And the bride is one of the most popular young ladies of the city, the daughter of a well-known family, and has hosts of friends in Virginia and many other States. Wagon load after wagon load of handsome and costly presents were received from the many friends.

THE RECEPTION.

After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Booth, father and mother of the bride, gave a grand reception at the old "Colonial" Inn, which was partaken of by many distinguished men and women from many States of the Union. The following are some who were present: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Phillips, of New York; C. C. Phillips, of New York; Leroy G. Myers, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Cropper, of Washington, D. C.; B. A. Tallafra, of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. J. J. Waters, of New York; Mrs. W. B. Pritchard, of New York; Mrs. Jno. S. Wise, of New York, the groom's mother; S. D. Day, of New York; H. W. Fuller, general passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Washington, D. C.; L. A. Mess, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Evan Shelby, of New York; Spencer Dorden, of Fall River; Dr. John Water and wife; Mr. Henry E. Bunker, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Warrington Wise, Mrs. Peyton Wise, Miss Margaret Cropper, of New York; Miss Jackson Guy, Miss Sue Wise, Misses Tinsley, Mr. J. H. Wise, Mr. Guy Davis, and Mr. John Guy, of Richmond; Miss Folsom, of Chicago, Ill.; and the bridal party.

During the reception the bride and groom left on train No. 3, the fast flyer of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, for an extended Southern tour, after which they will make their home.

MEHERRIN MARRIAGE

Miss Annie S. Price Becomes the Bride of Mr. J. H. Ward

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

MEHERRIN, Va., November 12.—The Presbyterian Church at this place was the scene of one of the prettiest marriages of this season to-day, when Miss Annie S. Price, the daughter of Captain George D. Price, became the wife of Mr. J. H. Ward, a lumber manufacturer of Charlotte county. At 2 o'clock, the appointed hour, the ushers filed in as follows: H. W. Wall and E. W. Dickerson, Jr. Shaderton and D. F. J. Gregory, A. B. Shackleton and Tebe Halley. Following closely was the bride, attired in a beautiful white organ, carrying a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums. Rev. Hugh Henry made them man and wife. Miss Augusta, wife of Zebulon, acted as organist and Mendelssohn's march was beautifully rendered. The church was packed to its utmost capacity, and at the bride's request was not decorated. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for the home of the groom, where a reception will be tendered to them tomorrow. The presents were numerous and costly, which showed the popularity of the couple. The bride and groom will return here to-morrow, and in future will make this their home.

AT BRANDY STATION

Mr. C. M. Waite and Miss Katharine

Payne, of Culpeper County.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

CULPEPER, Va., November 12.—Set-dom has a marriage of more interest in this neighborhood taken place than any one this afternoon at Brandy Station, between Mr. C. M. Waite, attorney for Culpeper county, and Miss Katharine Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Payne, of this county. The marriage ceremony was performed in the Episcopal Church by its pastor, Rev. Carter Page. The color scheme in the church decorations was white and green, which harmonized with ornamentalations of potted plants, flowers, chrysanthemums and many tinted lights, cast shades of wondrous beauty on the varying scenes.

The bride, wearing the conventional traveling suit and carried lilies of the valley,

WEST—PATTERSON

Beautiful Ceremony in the New Court-Street Church in Lynchburg.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., November 12.—One of the most interesting and beautiful weddings that has ever been seen in Lynchburg, took place here this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the New Court-Street Methodist Church in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

The bride was Miss Lucy Hineson Patterson, and the groom Mr. John Francis West. The aisles of the main auditorium and the chancel had been covered with white cloth, and all about the altar there had been placed a wreath of palms and chrysanthemums and growing plants, the arrangement of which made a picture of rare attractiveness.

The first to enter the church were the ushers, Messrs. Giles H. Miller, John L. Caskey, Dr. T. D. Hubbard and Dr. R. M. Tallafra. The groomsmen were Messrs. E. P. Miller, W. S. Edil, Gray Nowlin, J. Tamm, Kinney, Joseph E. Johnston, of Farmville; Robert M. Booth, of Clifton Forge; Oscar Littleton, Jr., James D. Adams, John Kinckle and Mosby Ryland. The bridesmaids, who were attired in street costumes of cream colored nun's veils, trimmed with cream applique, wore white gloves, hats of velvet and plumes and wore black gloves to the elbow and carried large bunches of cream chrysanthemums with streamers of cream satin were Miss Ethel Rucker, Miss Katherine Foster, of Richmond; Miss Mattie Scott, of Farmville; Miss Margaret McKinney, of Lynchburg; Miss Lucy Neal, of Danville; Miss Sallie West, of Bedford, sister of the groom; Miss Josie McKinnon, of St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Margaret McKinney and Miss Hilda Forsberg.

The maid of honor, Miss Hattie Patterson, sister of the bride, and the mother of honor, Mrs. Giles H. Miller, cousin of the bride, were becomingly attired in cream crepe cloth with trimmings of ribbon and lace and white picture hats of velvet and plumes.

The best man was Dr. T. P. West of Bedford City, brother of the groom. The interesting ceremony was impressively performed by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Young, D. D., and the bride was given away by her guardian, Mr. William W. Wilson, Jr., on whose arm she advanced to the front of the altar.

DICKINSON—BURKE

Interesting Marriage Ceremony Performed Near Millford.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

MILLFORD, Va., November 12.—One of the most interesting marriages of recent years in this part of the State took place at 7 o'clock this evening at the
